Brief summary of the event in around 100 words (purpose, conduct, feedback, impact, suggestions)	The World Antimicrobial Resistance Awareness Week (WAAW) 2024 was observed at MIMER Medical College and Dr. BSTR Hospital from November 18th to 24th . The theme for this year, " Educate, Advocate, Act Now, " was emphasized through a range of events designed to sensitize both students and medical professionals. The Antimicrobial Stewardship Committee of MIMER Medical College, in collaboration with the global ReAct Asia Pacific Network, organized a significant lecture on November 27th titled "Combating AMR- Role of Healthcare Professionals." This lecture targeted interns, postgraduate residents, and faculty members, with Dr. Abraham Joseph, a Pharmacologist, and Dr. Salman Khan delivering an informative and engaging presentation. They also launched a Research Grant funding initiative for student-led community-based projects focused on AMR.
